Q4. What do you think would improve this session?

1	I learned a great deal and enjoyed the content layout. However, the load time of the pages and coaches was very slow.\ Great information delivered in a very nice presentation.	Nov 23, 2012 3:54 PM
2	Maybe adding some graphics or photos.	Nov 20, 2012 10:25 AM
3	I really like that you incorporated "case studies" in your BookBuilder. Your site looks very professional!	Nov 19, 2012 5:16 PM
4	I did not come up with anything! Not only is this a great tool for parents, but it is designed in a way that after parents complete the lesson, they can sit down with their children and go through the lesson together.	Nov 19, 2012 3:32 PM
5	The resources provided were well constructed and presented. Great job on the final product and material presented.	Nov 18, 2012 1:25 PM
6	More engagement/excitement from reader	Nov 14, 2012 10:31 PM
7	More engagement/excitement from reader	Nov 14, 2012 10:31 PM
8	resources/links to internet monitoring software for parents	Nov 13, 2012 7:01 PM
9	voices of coaches should be different. voice of female reader when selecting green arrow too slow, very ponderous. spelling error for hali on slide 7 should say hide bullying not hid bullying, also slide 11 should say internet service provider not servie provider. overall presentation is long and made longer by listening to all three coaches. The dog provided the most interesting information - what I really wanted to know. thought the study the flash card break was a good review however the scatter mode overlapped and you could not read all of the choices. the pictures of the children in the eric video seemed too young to be in the 8th grade. would like video to be interactive to select choices or answers from coaches then see conclusion video or parent interview. overall well done, but would recommend some changes. 11	Great topic. I would get rid of the table of contents. I would also get rid of most of the written text, but keep the audio, enlarge the images, and add just a few key phrases. I would start the entire book with page 7. This is such a great opener. There is also too much explanation on how to use Bookbuilder. This can be condensed to a few phrases on page 2 leaving the audience to explore the audio and the coaches. The content is relevant and important which makes the lesson first and foremost successful. I liked the examples given. I am almost afraid they may give some bad ideas to certain young learners.	Nov 11, 2012 10:37 PM
12	The questions felt cramped, too many per page when there were questions, lots of pages without questions, and three pages (around page 14) had the same question three times. Content was good, but a bit cramped as well.	Nov 11, 2012 8:49 PM

Q4. What do you think would improve this session?

13 It was a very good and informative lesson. I would not change a thing.
